Ten Things You Should Know About VOCA

1. The Victims of Crime Act, passed in 1984 under President Ronald Reagan, created the Victims of Crime Act Fund, or VOCA Fund, to be a protected and dedicated source of funding for crime victim programs.
2. The VOCA Fund does not depend on taxpayer dollars – it is derived from fines and penalties on offenders at the federal level.
3. VOCA dollars are distributed to the states to support two important types of programs: crime victim compensation programs, which pay many of the out-of-pocket expenses incurred by victims as a result of crime, and victim assistance programs, which provide victims with support and guidance in the aftermath of crime.
4. Nearly 4 million victims a year are served by more than 4,000 local and state victim service agencies funded by VOCA.
5. VOCA assistance grants support programs that provide assistance to victims of all kinds of crime including victims of assault, robbery, gang violence, intoxicated drivers, fraud, elder abuse, domestic violence, child abuse and neglect, sexual assault, stalking and survivors of homicide, tribal victims, and many others.
6. VOCA also supports victim assistance for those involved in the federal criminal justice system, including survivors of terrorist acts.
7. While the VOCA Fund has been very successful in creating a strong web of services for many victims, there are still too few services for rural victims, teen victims, elderly victims, disabled victims, non-English speaking victims, and many others.
8. Because the Fund is comprised of offender penalties and fines, the amount in the Fund fluctuates from year to year. For the last several years, Congress has created a special reserve of VOCA dollars for use in leaner years, by placing a cap on the Fund and saving the amount collected over the cap to ensure the stability of the Fund. Currently, the VOCA Fund has an estimated balance of $9 billion.
9. While FY 2015 appropriations are not yet final, the expected cap on VOCA funding is $770 million. This level funding comes despite growing recognition of the unmet needs of victims of both longstanding crimes, such as sexual assault and elder abuse, and emerging crimes such as human trafficking and cybercrime.
10. Congress and the administration should keep their promise to victims and release more VOCA Funds to help victims of crime recover. Congress should establish a policy of setting the annual cap at least at the level of the previous year's deposits into the Crime Victims Fund. This will allow Congress to distribute each year's deposits for victim services so that victim service organizations can take greater advantage of the VOCA funding.

Any questions please contact Victims of Crime Coordinator Kristi Kautzman at (541) 573-8018.

Non-lead Ammunition Test Day

Give non-lead ammunition a try for FREE!

Attendees will have a chance to win a $25 gift card to Sportsman's Warehouse
Hunters and Shooters: Why could this be important to you?

1. Non-lead ammunition is extremely effective: non-lead bullets offer great weight retention, consistent expansion, and exceptional accuracy for big game, or quick expansion and good fragmentation for furbearer or varmint hunting, all with no lead.
2. Lead Fragmentation & Weight Loss: Conventional lead bullets lose weight on the way through an animal, leaving lead behind in the remains, and increasing the risk of accidentally poisoning scavenging wildlife or bringing home unwanted fragments in the processed meat.

Where: Burns Butte Sportsman's Club

Directions: The Burns Butte Sportsman's range is located west of Hines. Take Hines Logging Road (NF Road 47) for 3.6 miles. The range will be on the right.

When: May 11th, 2019 from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm

A selection of non-lead ammunition from multiple manufacturers will be available for the following cartridges:

.17 HMR .22 Long Rifle .223 Remington 5.56 Nato .22-250 Remington .243 Winchester	.25-06 Remington 6.5 Creedmoor .270 Winchester 7mm Remington Mag 7mm-08 Remington .30-30 Winchester .308 Winchester	.30-06 Springfield .300 Winchester Mag .300 Winchester Short Mag .338 Winchester Mag .375 H & H Mag .45-70 Government

Hunters are invited to bring their firearms and current ammo to compare with non-lead options for accuracy. A special demonstration will also compare terminal performance of conventional lead hunting bullets and non-lead bullets in water barrels and ballistic gelatin. If planning a hunt this year, come test different non-lead ammunition and get ready for success!
